Retreat before Smashing Motorized Nazi Infantry

Official Red Statement Declares Supreme Crisis for Capital Is at Hand and Admits "Our Position in the Western Direction of the Front Has Deteriorated"; Battle Continues

MOSCOW, Thursday, Oct. 16 (AP)-A vast German force of tanks and motorized infantry has broken through the defenses west of Moscow, forcing the Russian central armies into retreat, it was acknowledged officially early today, with the hour of supreme crisis for the Soviet capital admittedly at hand.

The communique announcing this staggering blow to the Red armies of the center was issued two to three hours later than the usual post-midnight report by the Soviet information bureau.

Although vague as to details, it left no doubt of the peril pressing on Moscow and of the Soviet Union with these three sharp sentences:

RED POSITION "DETERIORATED"

"During the night of Oct. 14-15, the position in the western direction of the front deteriorated. "The German Fascist armies hurled a large quantity of tanks and motorized infantry against our units, and in one sector broke through our

A New Deal Agency Comes Under Fire

IN one of his recent dispatches published on this page, Mark Sullivan presented reports from newspapers showing that intensive campaigns were being waged by those in charge of the National Youth Administration and the Civilian Conservation Corps to recruit young men for each in competition with the growing demand for them in defense industry and the requirements of the draft.

A report just made by Republican national headquarters shows that desperate efforts have been exerted by the NYA bureaucrats to maintain its regular expenditures regardless of the new situation resulting from the national defense program. These are revealed in a report on the NYA made by Lindsay C. Warren, the United States comptroller general. Not only does the report show efforts to keep up the enrollment, but it shows also, to use its own words, "numerous irregularities and questionable trans-

Investigation of correspondence in the files of the NYA showed that each state was allotted a specific youth assignment quota "in order to maintain a current expenditure" of funds, Mr. Warren said in a letter accompanying the report. But as early as 1939 "difficulties" were met because youths from 18 to 25 were being absorbed by private industry and the army.

"In order to maintain the quotas, thereby using the moneys already appropriated by the Congress and thus apparently to justify requests for subsequent appropriations," the report stated, "the National Youth Administration reduced the age limitation from 18 to 17 years and later to 16 years for youths who could receive aid and also requested the army recruiting officers to refrain from contacting for the purpose of enlistment, youths employed.

"School officials protested the reduction in age limitations, contending the youths in their localities would leave school for the purpose of obtaining NYA benefits."

The report also disclosed that during the investigation, NYA administrator Aubrey Wilwhile they might "find certain matters that did not appear to be legal" he (Williams) "did not care whether they were actually legal or not."

Among the "questionable transactions" on Among the "questionable transactions" on the part of NYA employees, the comptroller general's report listed these:

Travel expenses and intermingling of private and official business; accepting fees for participating in lectures; dual compensation; filing of false claims; payment of per diem compensation and regulations for dunking and tanks than we shall have been equally disastrous. Even if these munitions were not convertible by the Nazis to strengthen their own armament—which much and tanks than we shall have to months to come. Their loss of railing with international law, or with in quarters for convenience of employees; emplo

The report further revealed that administrator Aubrey Williams in March 1940 misinformed a House appropriations subcommittee regarding the "expenses incident to the establishment and maintenance of employment agencies" in 180 of 187 offices located in forty-one states for finding jobs for youths in private industry.

that the actual cost of the program far exceeded the amount reported by Mr. Williams."

The disclosures made by the camptroller general should result in increased demands for a sweeping investigation of the present activities of all non-defense agencies. The Republican national committee headquarters says they already have.

A Sensible Check On Public Spending

THE ALLOTMENT SYSTEM of state budgeting, designed to provide greater control over spending and to bring about more frequent rechecking of spending trends, will be placed in But unless you happen to be essentially cynical about operation December 1 in Massachusetts.

In adopting the plan at this year's legislative session, Massachusetts became the twenty-ninth state within the last decade to place its budget under control of the allotment system. ### New Speed Signs Should Be Heeded

MOTORISTS are urged by the Keystone Automobile Club, in the interest of highway safety, to observe with scrupulous care the "safe speed" signs now being erected on many of the principal highways of Maryland.

"These signs," says George E. Keneipp, manager of the club, "are veritable life savers. They fill a need long recognized by safety engineers in giving definite visual indication of the speed which may safely be followed on curves.

Signs of Italian Split Are Seen At Brenner Pass

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15-Mussolini has been capering around to Nazi cocktail parties strengthening Axis social ties, while his army has been erecting new fortifications at Brenner Pass, the single gateway through which the Axis connects. This puzzling rethe top men here from an unques tionable official authority in Rome The obvious suggestion it con veys, namely that Il Duce might be planning defense or resistance against his busy brother at the Russian front, is of course difficult to rationalize with the completely demoralized state of the Italian army. But if Mussolini's generals foresee the possibilities of a separate peace or an internal uprising which would throw Italy into resistance against the Axis, the heaviest possible fortification of the Brennar would be the first step.

Officialdom here is merely perplexed by the information—and hopeful.

Food Problem Grows

The completely confused state of the Italian nation is demonstrated by the meagre dispatches filtering through a rigid censorship. At the bottom of the unrest is a food problem which will approach the crisis this winter.

The anti-Nazi bloc of Italians, which has been cowed into silence until recently, is openly rising. Disturbances in Turin and Milan are powerful manifestations that this group is gaining the courage for outspoken resistance.

The Nazis have been expecting the worst from their useless allies since they moved their official and unofficial Gestapo in upon Mussolini early in the war. But there are not many German soldiers now in Italy. The Nazi crowd holding down the Fascist lid there is composed mostly a trifling deficit of $12,583,000,000. Viewed from any angle, it's a gloomy picture, made the more gloomy by evidence of a blithe disposition at Washington to keep on spending money for anything and everything in the same old heedless manner.

Common Sense About Constipation

A doctor would tell you that the best thing to do with constipation is get at its cause. That way you don't have to endure it first and don't have to endure it first and try to "cure" it afterward-you can avoid having it.

Chances are you won't have to look far for the cause if you eat the super-refined foods most people do. Most likely you don't get enough "bulk"! And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestings

Cobina's Home Is Won By Her Cook's Baby

When Cobina Wright, Jr., started work in 20th Century-Fox's new technicolor musical, "Week-End in Havana," now at the Strand, which stars Alice Faye, Carmen Miranda, John Payne and Cesar Romero, it meant that she had to give up her activities as a foster mother for a while,

Some time ago, Cobina and her mother advertised for a cook. A very personable young woman applied and was hired. She asked if the Wrights could also use a chauffeur, and handy-man. They could, so she called in her husband who was waiting outside.

Shyly, the woman then asked: 'There's one thing more. We have a little baby. Would you mind having him in the house?"

Cobina and her mother were stopped for a moment. A baby! They hadn't considered that before. But when they had heard the story of the young couple-Jack and Maxine Melrose-and the difficulties they had faced, the kindhearted Wrights welcomed them with open arms.

The glamorous Cobina, former New York deb, took an unusual interest in the six-month-old Mark. She even started preparing the baby's formula and feeding it.

Frostburg Scouts Will Take Part In Defense Move

Troops Will Start This Week To Collect Waste Paper

FROSTBURG, Oct. 15 - Boy Scouts of the Frostburg district will take part in a program to conserve waste paper as part of the National Defense program, according to Raymond C. Lalor, Boy Scout executive.

Details are as yet incomplete but Scouts of this vicinity will be asked to collect waste paper for defense needs in a few days.

The Frostburg district committee was informed last week at a meeting of the committee, held at the home of W. J. Elvin, district chairman, that the collection of waste paper was shortly to come up as a task for the Boy Scouts, and the October issue of "Scouting," the official paper of the Boy Scout organization, announces in a special item that the Scouts will be called on to collect waste paper for defense needs,

MONTHLY PAIN Children Should Memorize Basic Addition Facts

Counting Habit Can Be Prevented, Dr. Myers Declares

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D The main item in learning addition is learning by heart the simple basic addition facts such as seven and five are twelve. There are only one hundred of these.

Any child who counts cannot be very rapid in addition, no matter how much he tries to hurry, or how much he practices in the same way. Some children tap silently with a finger or foot, some imagine they are tapping or counting, others may have all sorts of curious modes of counting. A certain little girl ten years old known at school to be slow but very accurate in responses to the addition combination, grew confused and could scarcely answer at all one day. The teacher discovered that a loose tooth with the bazaar or make them for gifts. which the child had been counting Pattern 2994 contains a transfer out her numbers for several weeks pattern of six motifs averaging ber, your name and address.

To Correct Counting Habit Suppose your child is in the fourth or fifth grade at school and still counts when he adds two simple numbers like seven and four

You can help him if you will induce him to memorize three or four of hese addition facts each evening. saying each one over and over ole number fact before him It is very important that he shall not try himself out on any number fact before he knows it, that he shall never practice it wrong, that he shall look at the whole fact when in doubt and never guess. To this end he needs to feel perfectly calm and unhurried. The counting habit can and ought to be prevented. It sometimes begins before the child goes to school when his parents thinking him precious will encourage hi mto add two numbers by counting them out. Then most primary teachers, supposing they are exercising the child in reasoning, will practice him at counting in the early steps of adding.

Once the child knows how to count small numbers and the meaning of these small numbers in connection with the number symbols which represent them like seven. nine, five, he should quit counting and memorize the simple addition facts, learning each one by heart as he would learn to spell. Let him attempt only three or four at a sitting and first master all the one nundred addition facts before attacking any of the one hundred subtraction facts. Several thousand parents have already written me from various parts of the United States, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it and asking for these one hundred addition facts and one hundred subraction facts. Anybody may hese by writing me at 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York City, and enclosing an envelope with a

"Should I Buy Tires Now?"

T IS false economy to operate your car on smooth rubber—especially this time of year—when roads are likely to be wet and slippery. Smooth treads give for less protection against punctures, bruises or blowouts. Wet rubber slips-unless the tread design grips.

But DO NOT buy tires to lay away for future use. We doubt whether prices wi advance enough to make that worth while The Government is trying to conserve all the rubber it can for emergencies. We must do our part by making present supplies go as far as possible.

One good way to economize, and still play safe is to bring in smooth tires to us for renewing. If inspection proves them to be sound inside, we will put on a new tread that will give you nearly as much service as you got from the original one . . and the cost is only half that of a new tire. If you prefer new tires-we'll gladly allow the full value of your old ones in trade.

Of one so dearly loved by all,
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
It was to part with one, so dear.

Explosion Probe To Be Continued By Grand Jury

Investigation Recessed until Nov. 3 Pending Further Information

The Allegany county grand jury recessed yesterday afternoon until November 3, when it will reconvene to complete its investigation of the North Centre street explosion of October 2, which resulted in three deaths, the injury of more than a score of persons and extensive property damage, estimated to exceed

In a formal report to the judges of the circuit court outlining its activities, the investigating body asked that its members be excused until "certain information" concerning the blast, described as "extremely important." is available.

Report Awaited

The nature of the information was not revealed, but it was assumed that it included a report on the findings of two explosives exat the request of city council, as well is other evidence still being gathered by the state's attorney's office. Acceding to the request for a reess. Associate Judge William A Huster set Monday, November 3, the date for the jurors to return complete their probe.

"We do not at this time care nake a final report on existing fir conditions in the city," the jury advised the court, promising "to cov this matter in our supplemental re port after we have completed ou investigation with regard to the r cent gas explosion in this city.

The jury's description of the dis aster as a "gas explosion" occasion ed considerable comment, but it was Martin L. Johnson Bequickly pointed out that the terr was a general and vague one which did not specify what kind of gas.

34 Witnesses Questioned There has vet been no official verdict from any source as to the cause of the blast, but some of the natural gas furnished by the Cum-

John V. Kalivrousis Dies In' Fall from B. and O.

A former Greek sailor, John V. Kalivrousis, about 35, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon when he fell fifty-three feet from the B. and O. bridge over the Potomac river at McKenzie, Md. The man fell to the rocks below, just missing

Kalivrousis fell at 3:10 p. m. and died twenty minutes later, workmen reported. They said paint which was being used on the bridge had evidently dripped on the scaffold Kalivrousis was using causing him to

Ironically enough, Kalivrousis had gone through the horrors of being torpedoed by a Nazi submarine only to be rescued, and then died while working in a nation at peace far from the dangers of convoying goods

ted with Kalivrousis said he was on the Greek freighter Stamatos Emperikos when torpedoed in a convoy to Great Britain. He had been a seaman for twenty years and only ten months ago was naturalized an American citizen. Dr. Linne Corson, deputy medical examiner, said Kalivrousis suffered a fractured vertebrae, punctured right lung, and fractures of the lower jaw, right arm, right hand, collar bone and contusions and lacerations about the body.

County officials said last night that two men died in a fall from the bridge about two years ago while repairing the structure. They fell into the Potomac but drowned before aid could reach them due to the swollen condition of the stream. The bridge is located near the
